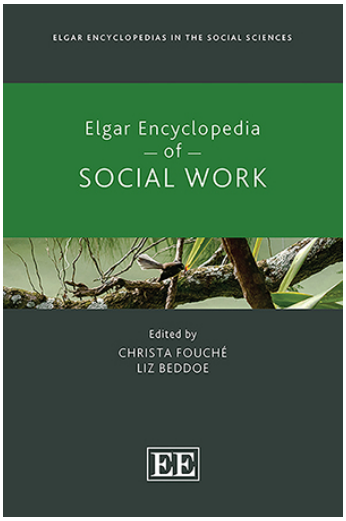
Elgar Encyclopedia of Social Work

Elgar Encyclopedias in the Social Sciences series



Edited by Christa Fouché, Professor of Social Work and Liz Beddoe, Professor of Social Work, School of Education and Social Practice, University of Auckland, New Zealand

This Encyclopedia defines the landscape of social work with over 160 research-informed entries. Drawing on analytical and reflective perspectives, it demonstrates the profession's commitment to improving societies globally.

'What a tour de force this Encyclopedia is! The extent of its coverage is simply breath-taking, with contributions from across the world, covering a vast array of issues and subjects. The editors have kept a tight rein on this massive body of knowledge; the end-result is a resource book that will be useful for academics, practitioners and students across the globe.' – Viviene E. Cree, The University of Edinburgh, UK
